

E. D. Moore,
Boston Jan 19. 1846.

Boston 19th Jan.

Br. Phelps,

It will be my turn to say, "Don't ~~settle~~".
 I have divided your article this week as you will see.
 The remainder, for next week, will make two columns.
 I deliberated long before doing so, but on the whole thought it was best. Occasionally we can publish an article of four columns, but I suppose that to do it very often would get our readers out of humor. There is time to make any changes you may wish to in the remainder of what you sent, which commences, "All polygamy forbidden".

I have read the Reporter & admired it. On discipline you will go safer. Do you see the articles in ~~the~~ Hartford Religious Herald? They are worth reading.

The Christian Examiner, to which you refer, did not contain a letter, but only the notice of a contemplated correspondence. If a letter comes I will send it for you if you want it.

I think Stone will make "short answers" to you — shorter than he did to Wilson. I cannot conceive what he will say about blood revenge & polygamy. But he must say something.

What say you to our putting the remainder of the discussion on the first page, beginning when you begin with Beecher? I am ^{not} particular about it if you have the least objection.

All well. Love to your family,

Yours,

E. D. More.

S. S. The papers which you ordered have been sent, without charge.